SANDER FOEDERER

My work focuses on the fundamental and possibly extraordinary act of perceiving the world around us. As a photographer / filmmaker I make images of reality. What interests me however, is how that reality can feel and how it can be experienced. Mindfulness and a tactile and formalistic curiosity form the basis for this. In recent years my practice has focused on the tension between the modern fast world on the one hand and the need for space and analogue (nature)experiences on the other. I question myself on how the public domain relates to the private and whether there is room for wonder and serendipity, both offline and online. Aside from pursuing personal projects, I work for many clients. Although my personal and commissioned work often differ in motivation and concept, I enjoy combining the two keeping both practices sustainable and inspired. Sander Foederer, April 2021
