ZOË HOLLANDER

Zoë Hollander's work explores the relationship between object, meaning, presentation and space in contemporary visual art and beyond.
Zoë Tim Hollander is a visual artist, curator, designer, DJ and writer. They graduated from the Fine Arts department of the HKU in 2014 and in 2016 spent a year at the Jan van Eyck academy. Their work explores the relationship between object, meaning, presentation and space in contemporary visual art and beyond. Hollander creates installations, books and scenographies. As a curator, they explore the breakdown of hierarchies and searches for both very physical and substantive connections between artists and their work. Their writings focus on the exploration between the body, space and identity.
