ROB KNIJN

My painting, out of joint
It seems that my art is slower than anything around me. Society is ever changing, faster, and sometimes not so fast. And progress isn't linear in one direction either. Not in my own work, nor in society. Progress is just something that sometimes happens. Some of these different kinds of pace, speed and progress I will incorporate in my own art, but my art itself will never be up to speed with what is happening today. It is so very slow, and that is what is good about it. That is the pleasure I get out of making paintings, there out of joint.
