

BYRON GUENTHER

Street art with a South African twist.

We balance our artwork between realism and the abstract. Our style symbolizes globality, rebuilding and reconnecting society: like pieces of stained glass window, coming together as a vibrant, unified whole image. Through this multi-coloured lens, we create emotive portraits of people, animals, and nature, representative of all ethnicities and cultures. Nothing needs to stay broken and nothing can't be fixed. We have worked with trusted brands like Netflix, GHD, T-Mobile, Jaguar, Converse, Peugeot, Vodacom, Deloitte and Saatchi & Saatchi. We often work with government departments to realize all kinds of street art projects.

COMMISSIONS

2021 The Cat Wall Gemeente Den Haag The Hague , Netherlands Achterom is a side street between the Kettingstraat and the Passage . Recently, the Municipality of The Hague has refreshed the image of this alley with lighting, greenery and new paving.

has long been a thorn in the side of many residents. A crazy part of the city between roads and railways that was not given much attention, but which is used a lot. Following a number of projects in Leidschenveen with the young people of the drawing/painting group of Peer van der Woude, we were asked to come up with a solution with this group. We asked versatile artists Zesta & Page33 to brainstorm with the young people and teach them aerosol techniques. Together the idea was born to honor the art of famous artists associated with The Hague in their own design in combination with natural elements. The drawing club was also allowed to work with aerosol cans themselves to put the first hand on the large mural.

PUBLICATIONS

2020 Street Art Africa Book Thames & Hudson
Cale Waddacor Johannesburg, South Africa
www.streetartafrika.com/ This visually rich survey – the first of its kind – showcases the work of over 200 artists and celebrates the explosion of street art in Africa over the last few decades. With in-depth interviews with street artists active in Africa today as well as coverage of the continent's major street art projects, collectives and festivals, it takes the reader on an introductory tour of the many African street art scenes, with a deeper focus on the most prominent players in Kenya, Morocco, Senegal, South Africa and Tunisia. Topics and projects covered include the monumental project Murais da Leba in Angola, which saw 6,000 square metres of wall covered by local graffiti and visual artists in the Serra da Leba mountain range; the cultural influences and idiosyncrasies of individual street art scenes, and how they mesh with local communities; and eL Seed's project 'Perception', a huge multi-part mural stretching across more than fifty buildings in Cairo's Zazaab neighbourhood, revealing a message of hope to its marginalized community in the artist's distinctive 'calligraffiti' style. Text commentaries elaborating on styles and processes, and social and cultural context, are peppered throughout the book, giving the reader further insight into a wealth of striking contemporary visual cultures – and helping make this a must-have for street art fans and practitioners.
